

EVERYTHING OLD IS NEW AGAIN: WHY WE NEED TO INCORPORATE TELEDENTISTRY IN THE DENTAL PRACTICE

Healthcare doesn't look the same as it did a year ago. If 2020 taught us one thing it was to be adaptable. Teledentistry allows us to solve some old problems in a new way.

In 2020 COVID brought us closures, reopening processes, expenses, and serious staffing shortages. We are also experiencing patient reluctance with serious rescheduling challenges. Moving forward requires healthcare providers be willing to pivot and explore new opportunities.

Expanding options for patient care while adapting to the “new normal” brings hope for the future.

Suggested Audience: Dentist and Team

DISCUSSION WILL INCLUDE HOW TELEDENTISTRY:

- Reduces and streamlines clinical and administrative duties
- Allows for flexibility in scheduling
- Increases compliance for patients who are reluctant to come into the practice
- Teledentistry provides another venue in which patients can receive care
- Teledentistry allows us to grow the practice without adding operatories.

Download Entire
Speaker Packet

Couple “Toothbrushes and Tombstones” with “Everything Old is New Again” for a patient-based presentation.

THERESA SHEPPARD
SOLUTIONS
Protection • Prosperity • Peace of Mind

THERESA K. SHEPPARD, RDA
209-222-0750

Theresa@TheresaSheppard.com
www.TheresaSheppard.com